Sorting and Packing

1. Give yourself plenty of time to do this task. Set yourself a realistic timetable instead of having to cram everything into the last week.
2. Set up a table so that you are not bending down as you sort items.
3. Do 2-3 hours at a time and enjoy the reminiscing sessions.
4. Put items into separate groups – things to keep, to give to throw away. And then sleep on the decision.
5. Label boxes very clearly on two sides with exact contents and the room to which it is destined.
6. Use paper plates to insert between dinner plates
7. Save old tea towels to cushion delicate items and be aware you always need more bubble wrap than you think.
8. Hi fi and computer leads – label them clearly when dismantling so that you know what cable goes where.
9. Wardrobe boxes save clothes from being crushed and make transfer to a new wardrobe much easier. Ask your removal company.
10. Label bases and lamp shades so they can be put back together again.
11. Run down your larder and freezer stocks.
